The Athletic Director

CHALMERS (BUMP) ELLIOTT is in his tenth year as Iowa's top athletic administrator. He was appointed to the position June 11, 1970, and oversees a staff of 40 men, 11 intercollegiate sports, and a large physical plant.

Bump's rise through the Big Ten ranks has been punctuated with success at every stop. Highlights of his tenure at Iowa include 11 Big Ten championships in four sports plus four NCAA wrestling titles.

Elliott has been personally involved in four Big Ten football titles and four Rose Bowl appearances. He was an assistant coach at Iowa for five years and helped build the Hawkeyes into the power of the Big Ten that began with league and bowl championships in 1956.

Iowa won two more Big Ten crowns in the next four years, but Bump was tapped by his alma mater, Michigan, to join the staff there in 1957. He became head coach two years later, and his term as Wolverine boss was highlighted by conference and Rose Bowl wins in 1964. Elliott's 10-year record was 51-42-2 when he quit coaching after the 1968 season to accept administrative duties. After 18 months as Michigan's associate AD, he became athletic director at Iowa.

Elliott played three sports at Michigan in 1946-47-48. A brilliant halfback, he topped the Big Ten in scoring in 1947 with 54 points and spurred the Wolverines to Big Ten and Rose Bowl championships. He led his team in pass receiving and averaged more than five yards a carry. He earned All-America honors, as did his brother Pete, a Michigan quarterback. Bump also played parts of two seasons (1943-44) as a Marine trainee at Purdue. He was selected the Big Ten's MVP in 1947.

Elliott's first coaching job was as an assistant at Oregon State (1948-51). Then he served on the staffs at Iowa (1952-56) and Michigan (1957-58) before becoming head coach there.

Bump is a native of Bloomington, Ill. His father, Dr. J. Norman Elliott, was a physician there and also coached at Illinois Wesleyan and Northwestern. Bump was discharged from the Marines in 1946 and received his degree at Michigan in 1948. He and his wife Barbara have three children: Bill, Bob, and Betsy. All are married. Bump was born in Detroit January 30, 1925.

The Head Coach

A tall, square-jawed Texan experienced in rebuilding ailing football programs is the man in charge of putting the Hawkeyes back on their feet. Hayden Fry was appointed Iowa's football coach December 9, 1978, bringing with him 17 years of head-coaching experience at the major college level.

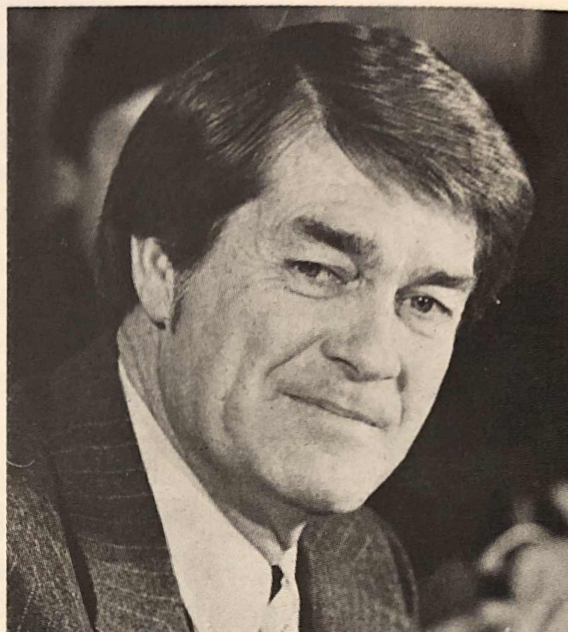

Considered by his colleagues a daring and innovative coach, Fry appears to be the ideal candidate to pump new life into the Hawkeyes, who haven't had a winning season since 1961. He believes he can make Iowa a competitive, colorful, tough, and exciting team. His achievements at Southern Methodist and North Texas State would indicate those are not idle promises.

Both schools were in the doldrums when Fry arrived, but it didn't take him long to perk things up. At SMU, where he coached 11 years (1962-72), Hayden put the Mustangs in three bowl games with a freewheeling, wide-open style of football.

In 1963, his second season, SMU received a Sun Bowl invitation. His 1966 team won the Southwest Conference championship with an 8-3 record, which is still SMU's best season since 1948. That team played in the Cotton Bowl.

Fry took his team in 1968 to the Bluebonnet Bowl, where it whipped Oklahoma, thus making him the only coach who has had teams in the three major bowls in Texas. His record at SMU was 49-66-1 and he was athletic director his last nine years at the school.

Hayden was coach and AD for six years at North Texas (1973-78), inheriting a sick program and making it a big winner (33-11) in his final four years there. Included were seasons of 10-1 in 1977 and 9-2 in 1978, the fourth best record in the nation during that two-year period.

His record at North Texas, which won only seven games in the four seasons prior to his arrival, was 40-23-3. His entire North Texas staff accompanied him to Iowa.

Hayden has a 17-year head coaching record of 89-89-4, an excellent worksheet considering he started at ground zero at both SMU and North Texas. He has the reputation of being an offensive-minded coach, which is well earned. His 1968 SMU team, for instance, went to Ohio State and put the ball in the air 76 times! That's still an NCAA record for most passes in one game.

Fry likes to open up his offense and use a bit of razzle-dazzle, but he believes that success starts with sound defense. His 1978 North Texas team proved that, winning nine games and leading the nation in three defensive categories: interceptions, return yardage, and take aways.

Named the Texas College Coach of the Year four times, Hayden broke the color barrier in the Southwest Conference when he recruited Jerry Levias, a black wide receiver, at SMU. He has attracted outstanding assistants, including Bum Phillips, now head coach of the Houston Oilers.

A second cousin of the late President Lyndon B. Johnson, Fry has served many years on the UPI coaches panel and is active in the American College Football Coaches Association. He has coached in several postseason all-star games, including the Hula Bowl, the East-West Shrine Game, and the Blue-Gray Game.

A native of Odessa, Texas, Hayden was an all-state quarterback there and led his team to the 1946 Texas high school championship. He was named most valuable player at the Texas prep all-star game that year and enrolled at Baylor, where he played four years (1947-50). He quarterbacked the Bears to a 26-13 record and earned a degree in psychology in 1951.

Fry was a player-coach with the Quantico Marines (he reached the rank of captain), head coach in his hometown of Odessa three years (1956-58), assistant to John Bridgers at Baylor two seasons (1959-60), and an aide to Frank Broyles at Arkansas in 1961 before moving to SMU as head coach.

An entertaining public speaker, Hayden has made nearly 100 appearances before various groups since he arrived in Iowa. He was born in Eastland, Texas, February 28, 1929. His wife's name is Shirley and he is the father of four sons—Randy, Zach, Kelly, and Adrian—and a daughter, Robin. Randy, Zach, and Kelly played for him at North Texas.

Quoting Hayden

These comments were made by Hayden Fry at his first Iowa press conference.

"If I didn't sincerely believe that Iowa can win in the near future I wouldn't have left a ball club that was 19-3 the last two years. I know this will be a tough job but that's been my life. I have a world of experience related to situations similar to this."

"I've been shot at and hit many times in my coaching career. You might say I have been around the horn."

"We are prepared to compete with people who have been winning in the Big Ten as long as it is ethical and within the rules."

"The one question I always have my coaches and players ask themselves is: 'Will this help us win?' If the answer is yes, then do it!"

"When you take over a program that's been down, you have to plow up some snakes and kill 'em."

"I believe in treating a player like a king until he shows me he's a bum. My players will be representatives of this University that people can be proud of."

"We run a multiple offense similar to that of the Dallas Cowboys. We may throw 50 passes a game. We may run the statue of liberty play out of our end zone. We may line up with only one player behind center. But we don't overlook the main objective, which is to win."

"We'll take what the other teams give us. We'll scratch where it itches."

"I can't get over the attitude of the people in this state. They really love their University. The number of fans that show up for football games here is amazing."

The Outlook

It won't require an expert to notice that Iowa's 1979 football team has undergone a severe face-lifting. Nothing about the Hawkeyes will look the same. Even the uniforms will be different.

Hayden Fry is the man responsible for the change. He comes to Iowa with 17 years of head-coaching experience at Southern Methodist and North Texas State and a reputation for keeping fans on the edge of their seats. He has junked a conservative approach that produced two 1978 Iowa victories and installed his wide-open, pass-on-any-down style of play.

Hayden will spread his attack from one side of the campus to the other, using more sets than you see in a novice bridge game. The Hawkeyes will only pass when they have the ball. Defensively Fry uses blitzes, stunts, and slants. He likes reckless football.

Whether this fresh approach will give Iowa immediate football improvement is questionable in light of heavy personnel losses and a wicked schedule. But it should be fun to watch.

The defense was hit especially hard by graduation, but Hayden beefed up his first recruiting class at Iowa with ten junior college transfers. The Hawkeyes are forever fighting a brutal schedule, which this year includes five 1978 bowl entries plus Big Ten cochamp Michigan State, banned from postseason play by an NCAA probation.

"We probably have the toughest schedule in America," says Fry. "We are also very short on depth and speed. But our players demonstrated a tremendous attitude in spring practice. They have a great desire to win.

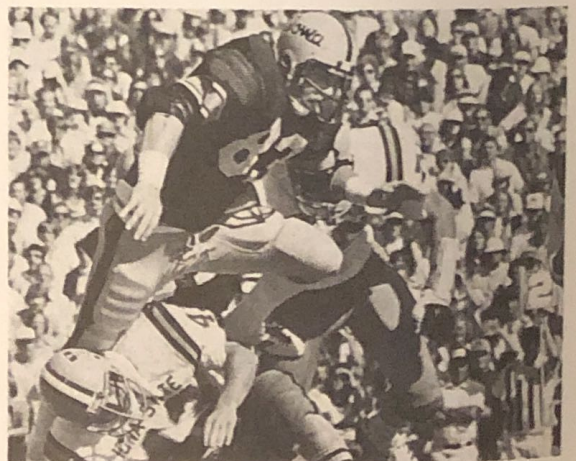

"Hey, don't ever count us out. We have the type of offense and defense that can make things happen on any Saturday. When we get hot, we have a chance. We'll play a very aggressive defense and a wide-open offense. We are approaching the season with a very positive attitude, although the odds will be overwhelming at times."

THE OFFENSE: The Hawkeyes had serious problems last season, once going 15 quarters without scoring a touchdown. But the only key loss was full-back Jon Lazar, and the offense stayed ahead of the defense in spring practice. "The first time that's happened in my 27 years of coaching," says Fry.

The story here may be at quarterback, where Hayden plugged a hole by inserting a 6-5 left-hander, Phil Suess, who languished on the scout squad last fall. Suess maintained a firm grip on No. 1 all spring and was impressive in the final squad game, hitting 28 of 45 passes for 378 yards and three touchdowns. If he keeps the job he will have beaten out two veterans, Jeff Green and Pete Gales, plus two jucos who each threw for more than 2,000 yards last season, Tony Ricciardulli and Gordy Bohannon.

There is an abundance of good receivers, including Brad Reid, the leading scorer and MVP last season. Other wideouts include Mike Brady, top receiver two years ago, and Keith Chappelle, who led the juco ranks with 70 catches in 1978. Two-year starter Jim Swift and Jeff Davis make tight end a solid position. "The strongest segment of our ball club is wide receiver," says Fry.

Tailback Dennis Mosley, a speedy senior, had an exceptional spring and has strong support in Phil Blatcher and Kenny Burke, both sophomores. Dean McKillip has taken charge at fullback. Veteran backs Tommy Renn and Dennis Martin missed spring drills while injuries mended. The interior line has quality players, and the best are center Jay Hilgenberg and Sam Palladino. "The potential is there for a fine offensive line," says Hayden. "And we have some speed at tailback."

THE DEFENSE: After steady improvement, the Hawkeyes were disappointing last year and finished near the bottom of most Big Ten defensive statistics. To compound the problem, eight starters are missing. The defensive front was especially hard hit. "We have a lot of new players and we're changing the defensive front from a 4-3 to a 5-2," says Fry. "We have also changed pass coverage from man-to-man to zone."

Pass coverage was a problem the past two seasons, but the new staff believes the secondary is the most improved segment of the team. Veteran cornerbacks Cedric Shaw and Mario Pace were impressive throughout spring drills. Mike Jackson returns after a red-shirt season to play strong safety. Lou King, Bobby Stoops, and Jim Frazier make free safety look like a strong position. The Ellis twins, Kevin and Kent, are versatile veterans. "These youngsters have the potential to put together a very good secondary," says Hayden.

Defensive end is manned by three good athletes: Jim Molini, Bryan Skradis, and Bill Bradley. The picture is not as bright at linebacker, where Todd Simonsen and Leven Weiss are the best prospects. "We believe we have three excellent defensive ends," says Fry. "Linebacking, however is a big concern and will receive priority when fall drills begin."

Tackle John Harty won all-Big Ten honors as a freshman but was slowed by injuries last year. Other top candidates are veteran Mark Mahmens and juco transfer Ron Hallstrom. Noseguard is handled by Pat Dean, a converted defensive end, and Don Willey, a former offensive guard. "These two positions showed a lot of progress late in the spring, enough to give us encouragement that we can have a good defensive line," says Hayden.

KICKING GAME: This is in good shape with the return of veterans Dave Holsclaw and Scott Schilling. Holsclaw did all the kicking (punts, placements, and kickoffs) two years ago and punted last season while Schilling handled the other duties. Both will be pressed by Reggie Roby, a high school all-American with a powerful leg. "Roby will have an impact," predicts Fry. "Our kicking game at the end of spring practice was in good shape, although we must improve punting against the wind."

THE OUTLOOK—Indiana's prospects for returning to the first division of the Big Ten after third- and fourth-place finishes in 1976 and 1977 rest largely on improving the defense. The Hoosiers averaged 21 points a game last year and return seven starters from that unit, but the defense lost eight starters. Joe Norman, Indiana's all-time best linebacker, is among those gone from a defense which allowed three touchdowns a game. Sharp-throwing Tim Clifford nailed down the quarterback position occupied by injury-hampered Scott Arnett. His targets include tight end Dave Harangody, who missed last year with injuries, and split end Mike Friede. Coach Lee Corso regards both as standouts, along with tailback Mike Harkrader, who in two years has vaulted into fifth place on the all-time Hoosier rushing list.

THE OUTLOOK—Coach Barry Switzer lost the nucleus of last year's Orange Bowl champs, including Outland Trophy winner Greg Roberts and quarterback Thomas Lott. Only four starters are back on offense, but they include Heisman Trophy winner Billy Sims and halfback David Overstreet. Sims rushed for 1,801 yards and a 7.6 average last year. Both the offensive and defensive lines were hit hard by graduation. Guard Paul Tabor moves over to center to anchor the offense, and tackle John Goodman will be the mainstay of the defensive front. Linebacker George Cumby returns after recording 55 solo tackles last year. The secondary is back intact, led by safety Darrol Ray, who swiped seven passes and also handles the punting duties. Lott's spot is filled by J. C. Watts, who rushed for 248 yards and passed for two TDs as a reserve.

THE OUTLOOK—The Cornhuskers return 39 lettermen, including 12 starters, off last year's Orange Bowl squad. Although quarterback Tim Hager is untested and the line is suspect the offense is strong at the skill positions. Tailback I. M. Hipp will put points on the board, and all-American tight end Junior Miller will bolster the aerial game. Center Kelley Saalfeld is the only proven member of the offensive line. The Husker defense will be tough, but the linebackers and secondary have to rely on replacements to back up an excellent line. Tackle Rod Horn gained all-Big Eight honors last year, while middle guard Kerry Weinmaster is in his third year as a starter. Cornerback Andy Means and safety Russell Gary are fine pass defenders, but the rest of the secondary is inexperienced.

Veterans Walter Grant, John Quinn, and Terry Rubley are all in the quarterback picture. Dexter Green is gone, but the running game should be strong with speedy Rocky Gillis stepping in at tailback and Jack Seabrook handling the fullback chores. Guard Brian Neal will be leading the charge in the offensive line. On defense, tackles Dick Cuvelier and Kenny Neil and nose guard Chris Boskey give the Cyclones an awesome front. Four part-time starters return at linebacker, headed by John Less, who had 69 solo stops. All-Big Eight safety Mike Schwartz is the key to the secondary. Rich Miller will handle the punting duties after an outstanding freshman campaign.

THE OUTLOOK—The Illini come off a 1-8-2 campaign with 33 veterans including 16 starters for coach Gary Moeller's third season. The offensive emphasis will center on reducing the costly errors which plagued the team last season. Quarterback Rich Weiss has a new set of receivers from an offense that was last in the Big Ten in passing and scoring. Leading rushers Wayne Strader at fullback and tailback Larry Powell both return behind an offensive line that remains intact. Defensively, the entire line is also back, led by steady veteran tackle Dennis Flynn. Returning linebacker John Gillen was tops in tackles and sacks. Top pass defender and interception leader Lloyd Levitt is back at defensive halfback.

THE OUTLOOK—Coach Rick Venturi went winless in his rookie year, but the Wildcats promise to be a colorful ball club. Last year 70 percent of the offensive yardage was produced by passing and quarterback Kevin Strasser is back. Strasser set Big Ten records for offensive plays, passing attempts, and completed passes. His targets are deep threat Steve Broggan, wingback Todd Sheets, and Tim Hill. Plenty of experience returns in the backfield with the likes of versatile Lou Tiberi and halfback Dave Mishler. Injuries riddled a defense that gave up over 50 points four times. Venturi hopes linebackers Chuck Kern and Jim Miller can provide leadership this year. Tackles Rob Taylor and Bill Gildner give balance in the front line, but free safety Ben Butler is the only proven pass defender.

THE OUTLOOK—The Gophers take on a new look with former Minnesota quarterback Joe Salem at the head-coaching helm. He promises a wide-open brand of football and has a lethal weapon in all-Big Ten running back Marion Barber, who rambled for 1,237 yards in 1978. Every starter returns on offense, including quarterbacks Wendall Avery and Mark Carlson and leading receiver Elmer Bailey. Defensively five starters return off a unit that gave up about three touchdowns a game. But such stalwarts as senior tackle Alan Blanshan (6-5, 251) and deep men Ken Foxworth and Keith Edwards should provide an adequate foundation on which to build. Edwards is also a dangerous kick returner. Kicking specialist Paul Rogind has a string of 53 consecutive extra points without a miss.

THE OUTLOOK—The Badgers started off last year with a bang, going unbeaten after four games, but finished 5-4-1. Coach Dave McClain welcomes back rugged fullback Tom Stauss, who has a 73-yard scoring jaunt. Wayne Souza is the only veteran receiver for veteran quarterback Mike Kalasmiki to throw to. Kalasmiki finished third in Big Ten passing last season. Blockbuster Ray Snell (6-3, 251) possesses size and speed at offensive tackle. Key losses hurt the defense. The entire secondary is new except for safety George Welch, who topped the team in interceptions. Linebacker Dave Ahrens is a headhunter, collecting nine sacks in 1978. Kasey Cabral moves from tackle to noseguard to help shore up the defensive line. The kicking game is average.

THE OUTLOOK—Optimism is high at Purdue with all offensive starters and seven defensive regulars back from last December's Peach Bowl triumph over Georgia Tech. Quarterback Mark Herrmann, a junior, is already the Big Ten's No. 4 all-time career passer with 4,357 yards. Fullback John Macon headlines a sound running game with all-Big Ten guard Dale Schwan opening the holes. Using a variety of looks, the defense returns all key faces from a squad that allowed only 9.9 points a game. First team all-Big Ten members Keena Turner and Ken Loushin help pose a formidable defensive line. The secondary has three newcomers. The kicking game is suspect with two untested specialists.

THE OUTLOOK—For the first time in 29 years the Buckeyes have a new head coach. Earle Bruce, an Ohio State graduate and a former Buckeye assistant, steps in after a six-year stint at Iowa State. The Buckeyes have 11 new starters, six on defense and five on offense. The offensive backfield is in good shape, with the talented Art Schlichter at quarterback and top rusher Paul Campbell at fullback. Schlichter may be kept on the run, however, as the offensive line has little experience. The tradition of big, tough linemen for the Buckeyes is noticeably absent on defense also. The secondary is keyed by all-Big Ten safety Vince Skillings and cornerbacks Mike Guess and Ray Ellis. Skillings swiped six passes last year. The Buckeye specialty teams will be excellent.

THE OUTLOOK—Spartan hopes are high this season after sharing the Big Ten title and reaching No. 12 in the wire service polls in 1978. Coach Darryl Rogers returns seven starters from an offense that was third in the nation in total yardage and scoring. Sophomore Bert Vaughn steps in at quarterback and has good targets in all-American tight end Mark Brammer and all-league flanker Eugene Byrd. The ground attack could be better with tailback Steve Smith and fullback Lonnie Middleton running behind a strong line. Dan Bass, an all-Big Ten linebacker, and noseguard Bernard Hay head the defensive front. In the secondary Mark Anderson looms as one of the nation's best safeties. Jim Burroughs and Mike Marshall are solid cornerbacks. The kicking game returns intact.

Iowa's All-Time Team

The selection of Nile Kinnick as the greatest player ever to perform for the Hawkeyes highlights the naming of Iowa's all-time football team. Fans selected the team as part of the Big Ten's 75th anniversary celebration in 1970. Calvin Jones received more votes than any other player, but in a separate ballot Kinnick got the greatest player nod over Jones by a sizable margin. Kinnick received the Heisman, Maxwell and Walter Camp trophies in 1939. Jones won the Outland Trophy in 1955.

Kinnick Stadium, named to honor Heisman Trophy winner Nile Kinnick, is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary. Built in 1929 at a cost of less than a half million dollars, the stadium has undergone several renovations and today has a capacity of 60,000. Kinnick was a Phi Beta Kappa scholar and star of the legendary Iowa Ironmen of 1939. He was killed at sea during WWII while serving as a navy pilot.

Herky and the Hawkeyes

The University of Iowa borrowed its athletic nickname from the state of Iowa many years ago. The name Hawk-eye was originally applied to a hero in a fictional novel, The Last of the Mohicans, written by James Fenimore Cooper. Author Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived and hunted with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Rorer of Burlington and James G. Edwards of Ft. Madison. Edwards, editor of the Ft. Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawk-Eye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name and were rewarded when territorial officials gave it their formal approval.

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawk, was hatched. The creator was Richard Spencer III, instructor of journalism. The impish hawk was an immediate hit and he acquired a name through a state-wide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

Since his birth more than 30 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot with a black leather head and gold felt feathers. Since then Herky has become a familiar figure at Hawk-eye athletic events.

Floyd of Rosedale

A bet in 1935 between Minnesota Governor Floyd B. Olson and Iowa Governor Clyde Herring gave birth to Floyd of Rosedale. Tensions between the two state universities had been running high and a wager was made in an effort to relieve the situation. After Iowa lost the game, Herring presented Olson with Floyd of Rosedale, a full-blooded champion pig and a brother of Blue Boy of Will Rogers's movie, "State Fair." Olson presented the pig to the University of Minnesota and commissioned St. Paul sculptor Charles Brioscho to capture Floyd's image. The result is a bronze pig 21 inches long and 15 inches high. Floyd currently resides in Minneapolis as a result of last year's Minnesota victory.

50th Anniversary

Kinnick Stadium is celebrating its 50th anniversary this season. The Stadium is named in honor of Nile Kinnick (pictured above), who won the Heisman Trophy while starring for the Iowa Ironmen 40 years ago. The stadium was dedicated October 19, 1929, in a homecoming game with Illinois.
