IOWA AT PURDUE GAME NOTES

Purdue's fumble in the first quarter was caused by Colin Cole and recovered by Derrick Pickens. It marked the fourth fumble recovered by the Iowa defense in four games. Iowa later in the game came up with its fourth pass interception.

The interception by Purdue in the first quarter is just the second this year thrown by Iowa QB Kyle McCann (McCann had another tipped pass intercepted in the fourth quarter). Iowa in four games has scored on 16 of 19 drives that have reached the opponent redzone, failing to score due to two interceptions and one blocked field goal.

The interception return for a Purdue touchdown in the first quarter marked the first time Iowa trailed this season and the first time an Iowa opponent has scored a touchdown in the first half. Penn State, with a field goal and safety, was the only opponent in Iowa's first three games to score points. Iowa's defense through four games has not allowed a first half touchdown.

Kyle McCann's touchdown pass in the first quarter to FB Jeremy Allen was Allen's second receiving touchdown of the season and McCann's sixth touchdown pass of the year. McCann's seventh touchdown pass came later in the game to Kahlil Hill.

In the first quarter, Iowa QB Kyle McCann completed passes to seven different Hawkeye receivers while connecting on 12-15 passes, with one interception.

Purdue in the second quarter became the second team to score a field goal against Iowa without gaining any yards on the drive. Purdue lost two yards before its 39-yard field goal that gave Purdue a 10-7 advantage. In Iowa's win over Penn State, PSU recovered an Iowa fumble at the Iowa 20 and gained no yards before kicking a field goal.

With today's totals, QB Kyle McCann surpassed 3,000 career passing yards, moving into sixth place on Iowa's career list for passing yards. McCann's career totals now include 252-442 for 3,079 Yards and 14 touchdowns. He is also sixth in career pass completions and attempts.

The third quarter interception by DB Bob Sanders marked the first interception of his Iowa career. Sanders is a sophomore who played last season as a true freshman, starting the final four games of the season.

WR Kahlil Hill's TD reception in the third quarter was his third of the season. Hill in the game increased his career receiving totals to 116 for 1,327 yards and 10 TDs. Hill is Iowa's leader in all-purpose yards this season. He ranks sixth in career receptions and 16th in career receiving yards.

Junior WR C.J. Jones, in his first season at Iowa after a two-year junior college career, had his best day as a Hawkeye. Jones came into the game with just four catches for 35 yards. His totals against Purdue were six catches for 77 yards, including a 37-yard reception on Iowa's third quarter touchdown drive.

Purdue's touchdown drive in the fourth was just the second touchdown drive allowed by Iowa's first team defense in four games. Penn State, with a 90-yard drive in the third quarter, is the only other team to score a touchdown against Iowa's first defensive unit. Purdue's other touchdown came on an interception return.

Iowa started the game on offense for the 21st straight game and for the 23rd time in 28 games under Coach Kirk Ferentz. Iowa has scored on its first possession in two of four games, touchdowns against Kent State and Miami, OH.

Iowa DB Chris Smith missed his second straight game due to injury, as did OL Andy Lightfoot. OL Alonzo Cunningham, who saw his first action of the season last week against Penn State, missed his third game of the season due to an ankle injury.
